

IMPROVISATION GAMES

Building the Team and training to unexpected events management

For a company event or convention we propose a new format which combines Entertainment and Educational Training (Edutainment).

An improvisation theatre team competition articulated in 2 steps:

- Training to improvisation theatre with “ad hoc” exercises and techniques
- Team training to manage frames/games, to improvise during a final show

Participants will be divided into teams with a trainer/coach for each team.

During the competition/show audience will suggest characters, situations, objects, emotions ecc., which teams on the stage will insert in the games, that is the improvisation.

Participants will receive:

- Team building and sharing of goals and values.
- Stimulating new energy and new learnings through a very unifying, creative and enjoyable experiential training
- Developing lateral and proactive thinking, which requires a particular psycho-physical training.
- Stimulating the ability to manage unexpected events.
- Training to concentration and to immediate and unexpected action.
- Celebrating collaboration through a show.

Our coaches are professional improvisers with more than 20 years experience. Among our teachers/actors there are improvisation theatre world champions and the best improvisation theatre coaches of Italy
